Financial Aid ... What You Need to Know

Types of Federal Student Aid

There are four categories of federal student aid:

- Grants - Student aid funds that do not have to be repaid.<sup>1</sup> Most federal grants are based on need.<sup>2</sup>
- Scholarship - Student aid funds that do not have to be repaid. Scholarships are gifts that are offered by schools, employers, individuals, private and non-profit companies, religious groups, and professional and social organizations. Scholarships are merit<sup>3</sup> and/or needs based.
- Work-study - Money earned through a job on or near campus while attending school.
- Loans - Borrowed money that must be repaid with interest.

<sup>1</sup>Grants do not have to be repaid; unless awarded incorrectly, withdrawal from course before the planned end of a term, or the terms of service obligations were not meet.

<sup>2</sup>Needs based eligibility is student's total cost of attendance that isn't covered by the expected family contribution determine by family income and size.

<sup>3</sup>Merit based is earned by meeting or exceeding certain standards set by the funder.

Commented [c4]: Make a note here of which schools participate in NYS?

What Programs are Eligible for TEACH Grants?

Not all college degree or certificate programs (even accredited and respected ones) are eligible for participation in the TEACH Grant Program. Only programs that lead to a Bachelor's or Master's Degree or are part of a Postbaccalaureate Program and are designed to prepare individuals to teach as a "highly qualified" teacher in a "high-need" field will qualify for TEACH Grant Assistance. Two-year programs (Associate's Degree) that are acceptable to be applied for full credit toward a Bachelor's Degree are eligible for participation in the TEACH Grant Program. A Postbaccalaureate program is not eligible for receiving TEACH Grant Funding if the school also offers a Bachelor's Degree in Education. Of note, the same program at two different schools may not always be eligible for the TEACH Grant Program, since the schools themselves are allowed to determine which of their programs will be supported by the TEACH Grant. The fastest, simplest, and easiest way to be certain is to contact the School's Financial Aid Officers and ask if the program qualifies.

NYS HEOP Eligibility

Higher Education Opportunity Program

The Arthur O. Eve Higher Education Opportunity Program (HEOP) provides a broad range of services to New York State residents who, because of educational and economic circumstances, would otherwise be unable to attend a postsecondary educational institution. Each HEOP institution must ensure that HEOP students are provided with sufficient academic support services, tuition assistance, supplemental financial assistance, and full need packaging to enable them to successfully complete the institutional components required for graduation.

To be eligible for admissions to HEOP you must be:

- A New York State resident for 12 months prior to enrollment;
- Require special admissions consideration; and
- Qualify as economically disadvantaged according to the guidelines. In selecting students for the program, priority is given to applicants from historically disadvantaged backgrounds.

Income Guidelines

The table below lists financial eligibility requirements for HEOP admission for students entering the 2021-22 academic year. In order to be determined economically disadvantaged, a student's household income must not exceed the amount shown for its size or the student's circumstances must conform to one of the exceptions indicated.

Number in Household (incl. Head of House)	Total Annual Income
1	$23,606
2	$31,894
3	$40,182
4	$48,470
5	$56,758
6	$65,046
7	$73,334
8 or More	$81,622; plus $8,228 for each family number

Applicant is automatically eligible if one of the below guidelines are met with appropriate documentation:

- The student's family is a recipient of Family Assistance or Safety Net payments through the New York State Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance; or through a county Department of Social Services; or Family Day Care payments through the New York State Office of Children and Family Assistance;
- The student is in foster care as established by the court;
- The student is a ward of the state or county.

Financial Aid ... Glossary of Common Terms

Accreditation: Confirms that the college or vocational school (an association of trade and business schools that are licensed) meets certain minimum academic standards, as defined by an accrediting body recognized by the U.S. Department of Education. Schools must be accredited to be eligible to participate in federal student aid programs.

Administrative Wage Garnishment (AWG): A tool that allows the federal government or a guaranty agency to have your employer withhold a portion of your earnings to collect unpaid non-tax debts that you owe to the federal government. If you have a federal student loan in default, up to 15% of your disposable pay could be taken by the federal government or a guaranty agency to repay your debt.

Default: Failure to repay a loan according to the terms agreed to in the promissory note. For most federal student loans, you will default if you have not made a payment in more than 270 days. If you default on a federal student loan, you lose eligibility to receive federal student aid and you may experience serious legal consequences.

Deferment: A temporary postponement of payment on a loan that is allowed under certain conditions and during which interest generally does not accrue on Direct Subsidized Loans, the subsidized portion of Direct Consolidation Loans, Subsidized Federal Stafford Loans, the subsidized portion of FFEL Consolidation Loans, and Federal Perkins Loans. All other federal student loans that are deferred will continue to accrue interest. Any unpaid interest that accrued during the deferment period may be added to the principal balance (capitalized) of the loan(s).

Disbursement: Payment of federal student aid funds to the student by the school. Students generally receive their federal student aid in two or more disbursements.

Early Decision: A college admission policy that allows applicants, who commit to attend that school, to apply and receive notice of their admission early. If the applicant is accepted, he or she agrees to attend that school and must withdraw all other applications.

Eligible Noncitizen: A U.S. national (includes natives of American Samoa or Swains Island), U.S. permanent resident (who has an I-151, I-551 or I-551C [Permanent Resident Card]), or an individual who has an Arrival-Departure Record (I-94) from U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS).

Financial Aid Package: The total amount of financial aid (federal and nonfederal) a student is offered by a college or career school. The school's financial aid staff combines various forms of aid into a package to help meet a student's education costs.

Forbearance: A period during which your monthly loan payments are temporarily suspended or reduced. Your lender may grant you a forbearance if you are willing but unable to make loan payments due to certain types of financial hardships. During forbearance, principal payments are postponed but interest continues to accrue. Unpaid interest that accrues during the forbearance will be added to the principal balance (capitalized) of your loan(s), increasing the total amount you owe.

Forgiveness: Forgiveness, cancellation, and discharge all refer to the cancellation of a borrower's obligation to repay all or a portion of the remaining principal and interest owed on a student loan but are generally used in different contexts.

Grace Period: For certain types of federal student loans, a period of time after you graduate, leave school, or drop below half-time enrollment when you are not required to make payments. You are responsible for paying the interest that accrues on unsubsidized loans during the grace period. If the interest is unpaid, it will be added to the principal balance of the loan (capitalized) when the repayment period begins.

Merit-based: Based on a student's skill or ability. Example: A merit-based scholarship might be awarded based on a student's high grades.

Need-based: Based on a student's financial need. Example: A need-based grant might be awarded based on a student's low income.

Promissory Note: The binding legal document that you must sign when you get a federal student loan. It lists the terms and conditions under which you agree to repay the loan and explains your rights and responsibilities as a borrower. It's important to read and save this document because you'll need to refer to it later when you begin repaying your loan or at other times when you need information about provisions of the loan, such as deferments or forbearances.

Satisfactory Academic Progress: The process a school uses to determine if a student is meeting all of their educational requirements and is on target to graduate on time with a degree or certificate.

Student Aid Report (SAR): A summary of the information you submitted on your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) form. You receive this report (often called the SAR) via email a few days after your FAFSA form has been processed or by mail within 7-10 days if you did not provide an email address. If there are no corrections or additional information you must provide, the SAR will contain your EFC, which is the number that is used to determine your eligibility for federal student aid.

Subsidized Loan: A loan based on financial need for which the federal government generally pays the interest that accrues while the borrower is in an in-school, grace, or deferment status, and during certain periods of repayment under certain income-driven repayment plans.

Unsubsidized Loan: A loan for which the borrower is fully responsible for paying the interest regardless of the loan status. Interest on unsubsidized loans accrues from the date of disbursement and continues throughout the life of the loan.

Work-Study: A federal student aid program that provides part-time employment while you are enrolled in school to help pay your education expenses.
